Figure 1: The difference (in %) between the urban and national homicide rate in selected countries

A positive score indicates that the urban homicide rate is higher than the national homicide rate, and a negative score indicates that the urban homicide rate is lower than the national rate.