Written by qualified academics and experience practitioners directly involved in the treaty negotiation, The Arms Trade Treaty: A Commentary explains in detail each of the treaty provisions, the parameters for prohibitions of the denial of transfers, international cooperation and assistance, and implementation obligations and mechanisms. As states ratify and implement the Treaty over the next few years, the commentary provides invaluable guidance to government officials, commentators, and scholars on the meaning of its provisions and covers all of the controversies. This volume describes in detail which weapons are covered by the treaty and explains the different forms of transfer that the Arms Trade Treaty regulates. It covers the relevant laws of war, international human rights, humanitarian law and the Geneva conventions, international criminal law, and state-to-state use of force, as well as the application of the treaty to transfers to non-state actors.
